Up on the roof

STEVE DUNN / GATE CITY

All Saints Catholic Church of Keokuk is replacing its original 125-year-old slate roof with the help of the Durable Slate Company of Ohio. The new slate should last 125 to 200 years, according to the Rev. Paul Connolly. The project is expected to be done before the end of summer. The slate on the steeples will be replaced first; then the rest of the roof will be replaced.
